GOV. EASLEY REAPPOINTS DAVIS AND FRANKLIN TO GOVERNOR'S TEACHER ADVISORY COMMITTEE

RALEIGH – Gov. Mike Easley has reappointed Harriette Davis of Durham and Ann B. Franklin of Weaverville to the Governor's Teacher Advisory Committee.

Davis is a mathematics teacher for Orange County Schools. She is a Durham Public Education Network Teacher Initiative grant recipient and a Duke-Durham Fellow in mathematics. Davis received her bachelor's degree in mathematics from Hampton University in Virginia.

Franklin is a mentor teacher for Buncombe County Schools. She is a member of the N.C. Association of Educators, the N.C. Teacher Academy and the N.C. Network. Franklin received her bachelor's degree in education from Mars Hill College and her master's degree in education from Western Carolina University.

The committee advises the governor on the experiences and concerns of teachers, assists in efforts to improve teaching and learning in North Carolina schools, recommends strategies for recruiting and retaining quality educators and recognizes entrepreneurial schools and school systems in North Carolina. The committee has 18 members, each serving a two-year term. The governor appoints all members.
